Background

- Network of Polish Universities Involved in Continuing Education (PULL) was founded as the national network on May 31, 2013.
- This network is formed by twenty Polish universities which are members of the University Accreditation Commission (UAC).
- This Commission has exceptional position in Poland as the best non-governmental quality assurance agency in the country.

Focus

- The creation of an accreditation system of course of studies at universities
- Promotion of students' mobility both in the national and international dimension
- Enhancement of the education quality
- Creation and implementation of the standards of education quality at universities
- Recognition of the HEI's ensuring high quality of education
- Coordination of projects connected with continuing education in Poland and Europe
